

Marshall and Donald Gaines Murray (above) on their way to court to argue for Murray's admission to the University of Maryland Law School in 1935; outside the New York headquarters of the NAACP (from left) staff attorney Roy Wilkins; Walter White, executive secretary; and special counsel Marshall.

